Johary Rakotondramasy : Guitar

BIOGRAPHY

Founded in 2014, Atrisma brings together three friends with palpable complicity. Vincent Vilnet (piano and keyboards), Hugo Raducanu (drums) and Johary Rakotondramasy (guitar) create together a colorful and dreamlike universe. These poets of cosmos take us on a singular trip where urban sounds and crystalline chords blend together.

Three talented individuals are not always enough to build an efficient trio, here the osmosis is total. Always listening to each other, each one expresses himself freely. The complicity of their musical phrases would lead to believe that everything is written, but it is not.

Inspired by various horizons, their first album Aurosmose, released in 2017, was a great success beyond the French borders (Heinekein Jazzaldia Festival, French Institute of Zaragoza, Alliance Française Bangkok, Rocher de Palmer, Andernos Jazz Festival, Festival Eclats d'Email, Festival Jazz 360, Shanghai...)

In this new opus, Chrono, the group asserts itself and this can be felt. Already more than 160,000 streams of the record, « playlisted » by Spotify, Deezer and Tidal. The live version of the EP, recorded by France 3 (French National TV channel) at the Rocher de Palmer, gave us glimpse of their stage presence.

Atrisma proposes a progressive music offering an escape for everyone. The combination of a jazz matched with sound bubbles blurring the lines between hip-hop, electronic music and rock n roll.

At times hovering, at times flying, oscillating between joy and melancholy, Atrisma's music leads to daydream. One finds oneself caught up in a cinematic universe, a whirlwind of emotions.

A whirlwind in the image of Alain Damasio's Chrones : these unpredictable « loops of knots and hyper speed winds ».

BIOGRAPHY

Vincent Vilnet, who is the initiative of the Atrisma project, has developed his activity as a musician through weekly jazz nights in a piano bar. He participates in various projects of accompaniment and artistic collaborations. Vincent has also participated in several Master Classes in France and Europe.

From Madagascar, Johary Rakotondramasy learned the guitar as an autodidact before joining the conservatory of Bordeaux. He plays in various bands ranging from Jazz Soul (Laure Sanchez Quintet) to World Music (Séga, Zouk, Malagasy music, Haitian Blues ...)

As for Hugo Raducanu, he first discovered African percussions and drums. Then he turned to jazz repertoire, jam sessions, orchestral games and multi-artistic shows. He takes part in various projects such as Nour, Innvivo or A Call At Nausicaa. In 2016, Hugo created with Cédric Rougier a publishing house: Le Canapé Bleu.

To hear them, one would think one was back in the days when the Portico Quartet wasn't still called Portico. « Focus », taken from their first album Aurosmose, is a little jewel on which the three accomplices have all the space they need to express themselves with raging delicacy and divinely close a sparkling set.

LES DILUVIENNES #1 : ATRISMA

Atrisma, the poets of cosmos, something like that... Sometimes, we're lifted up by colorfull bubbles that burst in some places to be reborn elsewhere, trained, rolled up, consenting.

We hear the clock in his piano calling for remembrance. We set off on the jolting path of memory, the images scroll by choose the most intimate ones and let them invade us, move us.

Atrisma questions tenderly, passion sometimes emerge from it, chorus are always furtive beasts entering into the gaps of the imagination to evolve, to blossom, to enchant us.

They make an enormous amount of room for improvisation, always listening carefully to each other. These young musicians have thus already succeeded in creating their own universe made of long suites, never settled, always full of surprises, going from lacey notes and crystalline chords to jungle rhythms or stormy crashes.

FESTIVAL > CAUDÉRAN

Such an osmosis between three young musicians from the Conservatory is almost miraculous, for an uninformed public as well as for the initiated, it is a sensational discovery in the etymological sense of the term. The feeling was so strong that many spectators rushed to buy the album on sale at intermission.

La Gazette Bleue - Ivan Denis Cormier

Musically, we're quickly caught in a cocoon of emotions, from joy to melancholy. We think of Satie, Pierre Henry and others. Taking risks for these young musicians who didn't choose the easy way out, to the great delight of the surprised and charmed public, as the comments during the intermission will confirm.

ATRISMA AU BAR AION A LA ROCHELLE LE 6/01/2017

Your music is a succession of images, shots, it's a race, a walk, it's physical, it's complicit and very humble. It feels good in the world where the ego presents itself as a value of success. Atrisma, thank you.

« Les chemins de traverse » par Alain Piarou

*If their virtuosity to these three is very real, it is never ostentatious. It is at the service of the song, of the moment, of the intention. They don't try to give us our money's worth with three thousand chords per kilo. It is not a simple cerebral game, but a true thoughtful and collective creation, like a free symphony, certainly complex in its counterpart, its changes of rhythm and style, but always speaking, always evocative, a true tone and a true universe.
